Your prayers are being answered!

In the last month several people have come back that we haven't seen in a while. Kevin got a break from work and came. Tiago's situation has gotten better it seems, and he's been back. Praise the Lord I was able to help Hayashi get connected with a church and a missionary friend, Jim Smith, in his new city. Please continue to pray for Hikari's 5 year old daughter. She had a major surgery and things were looking well, but then she got pneumonia. They are still staying with Hikari's parents in another city while she is recovering in the hospital. Hikari said they might not be able to come back until next year. Please pray for this sweet family and for the daughter's recovery.

Sharing the Gospel

Thank you for praying for Mai. Rebel continues to meet with her regularly and it seems she is getting closer to accepting Christ as her Savior. Please continue to pray for her and that the Gospel will get through to her.

I have been meeting with Mr. A recently. He has gone through several things recently and it has really been getting him to think about God and eternity. One day we spent over three hours going over the Gospel. He is skeptical of religion and I have been trying to show Him that a relationship with Jesus is not about a religion as he thinks of it. We are supposed to meet again soon. Please pray that he will be saved!

We had a new couple come to English Corner, and Rebel and I met with them again for supper one evening. They told us their story and I was simply amazed. The wife is a Christian, but the man was not. Recently they were flying back from a trip to New Zealand and as they were about to land the plane started shaking violently. The man, even though he was not a Christian, prayed "Jesus! Save us!" and right then, the plane smoothed out and they landed. In that moment that Japanese man understood the Jesus was the God who saves and He got saved right then and there! A few weeks later he was Baptized! Hallelujah! Please pray for this couple as they grow in the Lord. Pray they will continue to come to church and be a witness to others!

Hill Family JAPAN

We had a birthday party for our kids after a Sunday morning service. The kids invited their friends and several came and also heard the Gospel!

Mrs. Yamada helping us prepare some tracts.

A missionary friend, Steve Carter, knew someone who was giving away a pulpit, and so we were able to get it for the church! So thankful!
